

OBLIGATORISKE OPPGAVER

To be qualified to take the final exam, you have to satisfactorily complete two compulsory assignments. One is an oral activity and another is a written assignment.

You are qualified to take the final exam if you complete both assignments satisfactorily. You are disqualified if you fail to pass one or both. You will be informed by the teacher if you do not pass.

MUNTLLIG AKTIVITET

You will be disqualified for taking the exam if:

- 1) You do not do your activity at the fixed date and time.
- 2) You do not do your activity well enough to qualify. (If your performance is too poor to be approved, you will be informed by the teacher after the activity by e-mail.)

If you cannot do your activity on the fixed date or time, you must tell the teacher beforehand. Sudden cancelation is only accepted in case of emergency to yourself or to close relatives such as serious illness. In that case, you may do your activity during the break in classes the following week. If you still cannot do the activities in the following week, you should submit the teacher some document to prove this, such as a doctor's letter (legeattest).

The total activity is ca.2-3 minute long. What you have to do is as follows:

1 "Self- introduction" (for ca.2 minutes)

You talk about your name, special interests, family, hometown, etc. for ca.2 minutes without reading any script.

2 "Answering a question" (up to ca.1 minute)

You are asked at least one questions related to your self-introduction.

You have to answer the teacher's question without reading any script.

SKRIFTLIG OPPGAVE

You have to write a short text to introduce yourself. The text should consist of 4 (minimum) to 8 (maximum) sentences. The text has to be written by hand, not by computing.

In the text, you have to write at least one word in katakana. (for example, ノルウェー、トロンハイム/ トロンヘイム)

If you write numbers in the text, you have to write them in Kanji.

In this assignment, the following points are checked:

Whether the shape of hiragana, katakana (and Kanji) is correct

Whether you can write Japanese words in hiragana, katakana (and Kanji) correctly

Whether you can construct grammatically correct Japanese sentences

You will be disqualified from taking the exam if:

- 1) You do not submit the assignment by the deadline. *
- 2) Your writing ability is not high enough to be qualified. (If your text is too poor to be approved, you will be informed by the teacher after submission by e-mail.)**

* On the other hand, if you submit the assignment much earlier than deadline, your “fast learning efforts” will be taken into consideration.

** If your assignment submitted earlier than deadline is too poor to be approved, you should rewrite following the teacher’s instruction and submit again by the deadline.

How to submit:

You should in principle hand in the text. The simplest will be that you bring the text when you do your oral activity and hand it to the teacher before you start your activity. The deadline is set on Thursday 16:00 of the same week for the oral activities. If you wish to submit earlier than the deadline, you can do before or after one of the class hours, or during the break time of one of the class hours.

Only when you miss all the opportunities to hand in the text in person, can you scan the text and send the file of the scanned text as an embedded file attachment in the email to the teacher. It is not allowed to send it in any other way (such as via Google Drive, SNS, web links whether open or as apparent files which are actually links to files 'in the cloud', Microsoft Sharepoint, etc.). You should send the email so that the teacher receives it by the deadline.
